Athletics

Are you proud to be a Tiger? Yes I am! Over 62 sports teams for both boys and girls play year-round. Newton North has won the prestigious Dalton Award for participation and successful seasons for the past 14 years. The Boys Soccer Team went to the State Finals and the Cheerleading Squad headed to Nationals both for the first time in Newton North history. The Boys Cross Country team sported an undefeated season record along with the many other teams who shared great accomplishments. At the annual Thanksgiving Football game in Brookline, Newton North fans significantly outnumbered the opposing supporters, leading to a blowout victory. There's no place like North.

1) Cheerleaders shout out their colors at the Thanksgiving pep rally. 2) Ciaran O'Donovan and Ben Heidlage sprint to a big finish at their track meet. 3) Bret Bernard throws a momentous pass at the Thanksgiving football game 4) Thea Stewart dives for the save during a soccer game. 5) Tom Vargo astutely calculates an answer to a math problem 6) Giving donations to support local charities is a common sight on Main Street. 7) Jeff Soo helps a friend hang up a sign for a stuffed animal drive.

In my quest for a brain, I discovered the many exciting opportunities at Newton North. There are over 70 student-run organizations—such as the Italian and Jewish culture club, to those for Ping Pong and Chess, and a Bible study and Breakdancing Club. Other organizations include Orange Shield for Community Service and the Model United Nations. Students are encouraged to participate in multiple clubs and to even start their own. From Photography to Fashion Design and Psychology to Engineering and Robotics, students are enriched by a variety of innovative and core programs. Many students also venture to Italy, Spain, France, China, Cuba and England on exchange programs. There's no place like North.

Academics

Senior Section

When I arrived at Newton North and looked down the long four year road ahead of me, I did not know what to expect. Along the way, I met some great friends, learned a lot, and maybe got caught up in a few tornadoes. I'll never forget how heavy my backpack was freshman year (What was I thinking?), the hypnotist at the Sophomore Sleepover, the dress I wore to the Junior prom and my first day as a Senior. Now when I look back, I realize that despite the occasional witch or flying monkey, there is no place like North.

1) Tyler Markman takes time to stop and have a conversation with Nicole Petraglia between classes. 2) Dan Bassichis ponders Hamlet during an English class discussion. 3) Robert Cowden, Micah Walsh and Jo Peterson relax during lunch. 4) Alisha Ricardi gathers her belongings at the end of a hard school day. 5) Students are often seen working diligently even in between classes 6) Hannah Pepper-Cunningham and Mike Naugler enjoy a sentimental moment on stage. 7) Dan Shilo plays the Star Spangled Banner at Harvestfest.

Performing Arts

h sister! Where art thy slippers of ruby pigment? Theatre Ink annually produces twelve plays, many of which are student-directed. From the musical George M. to the student-directed Diary of Anne Frank to the faculty-written and directed Will, the Little Theater and the Lasker Auditorium houses an assortment of brilliant theatrical productions. Talented students also look to express themselves musically. From the Jubilee Singers to the Marching Band to the Concert Choir, there's no place like North.

You've Got a Friend in Me

Half-naked boys: These boys have big dreams, and big biceps! Ben Heidlage, Dan Robb, Jim Otten, Dan Bromfield, David Berney-Needlemen, Sam Ronfard, and Gerrit Albertson are supported by Davey Robb's immense strength.

Alexis Surabian and Becca Solow have the kind of smiles people only dream of.

After a long block of AP Euro, Lauren Alpert and Tim Newman are a bit...disheveled.

To be or not to be? Sam Stambler and Will Cohen ponder Hamlet while Beth Marks demonstrates her West Side Pride.

Is that Brad Pitt? Emily Franklin, Sarah Lyne, Rachael Yaffe, Gretchen Ritchie and Robyn Ross strike a pose as they spy a Hollywood hunk look-alike strut by.

Sarah Kruelwich and Nicole McNeil are the brightest kids in the nation! They submitted their college applications hours before they were due.

Jeff Newton, Sarah Shaughnessy, Stephanie Donohue and Sam Ronfard go incognito as they skip third block.

Inspiring to skip school to make it to a Red Sox game, Jessica Jacobs, Bin Lee, Michelle Pirnova and Jackie Crossen look innocent before making a mad dash for the third lot.

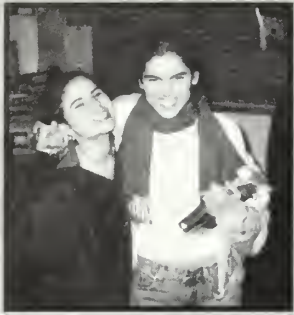

Don't mess with these girls!!! Jo Rosenberg, Mandi Lopes and Precious Sanchez will take you downtown to Chinatown!

Good food, good friends, good times! What else could Jay Jentz, Ben Kaufman, Luke Tedaldi, Jason Lewis and Jason Hecht want? (Besides girls...)

I'm on my way.
-A.J. Bard

Yes, I've felt safe because this is Newton and I trust the school.
-Leigha DeLuca

(Giving two thumbs up) Yeah.
Nothing's really changed.
-Mike Gersenhauer

Kind of. Sometimes it's 50-50 when you really think about it.
-Michelle Brooks

Yes, I have. Very safe.
-Ahmed Maksoud

Would you join in the fight against terrorism?

... yes, I'm proud to be an American.
-Rae Annese

Yes, if I had to—but I wouldn't just volunteer.
-Dave Moriarty

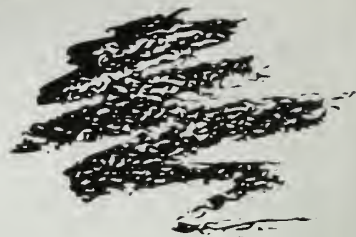

No, but I'd probably help out somehow.

For Mature Audiences

"Uhhh...I think it's your turn to say something."
This moment between Molly Schreiber and Josh Hankin-Foley isn't awkward at all.

Directors Dan Bassichis and Noah Issacs get into the spirit of their play by dressing up in 80's.

"Are you all right...Let me take you out to dinner." Alex Cohen is multitasking - he checks on Ross Lohr, while picking him up.

"I Could have sworn that there was water in this glass a minute ago." Mimi Diamant as a schizophrenic, homeless woman.

Jenna Metson takes a break from her waitressing job to tell him life story to a customer.

A message from the east side: we would like to thank the Newton North community for their unflinching support of this theatrical endeavor. The crew: you are the foundation of Theatre Ink. The faculty: your commitment to respect for all is inspiring. The parents: thank you for standing with and loving us. The cast: you are the most hysterical, dedicated, mature, and beautiful group of people. Be proud of what you've done. It has been a pleasure to be a part of such an amazing theatre department and school community.. We will miss you. "I see your heart- it's shiny."

Ross Lohr orders a glass of wine, while his sister Molly Schreiber tries to cope with the devastating news that her brother is dying of AIDS.

Underclass

“We Welcome You to Munchkin Land”

Junior Section

Don Cahill and Adam Shulman aren't quite sure what to make of Junior Year, while David Pressman gives it two thumbs up!

Sasha Bordett, Sarah Charness, Sophie Rosenberg, Rebecca Birenbaum, Lili Birnbaum, Jenny Dwork, and Sara Rabinovitch take a minute out of their busy Junior year's to relax in front of Riley.

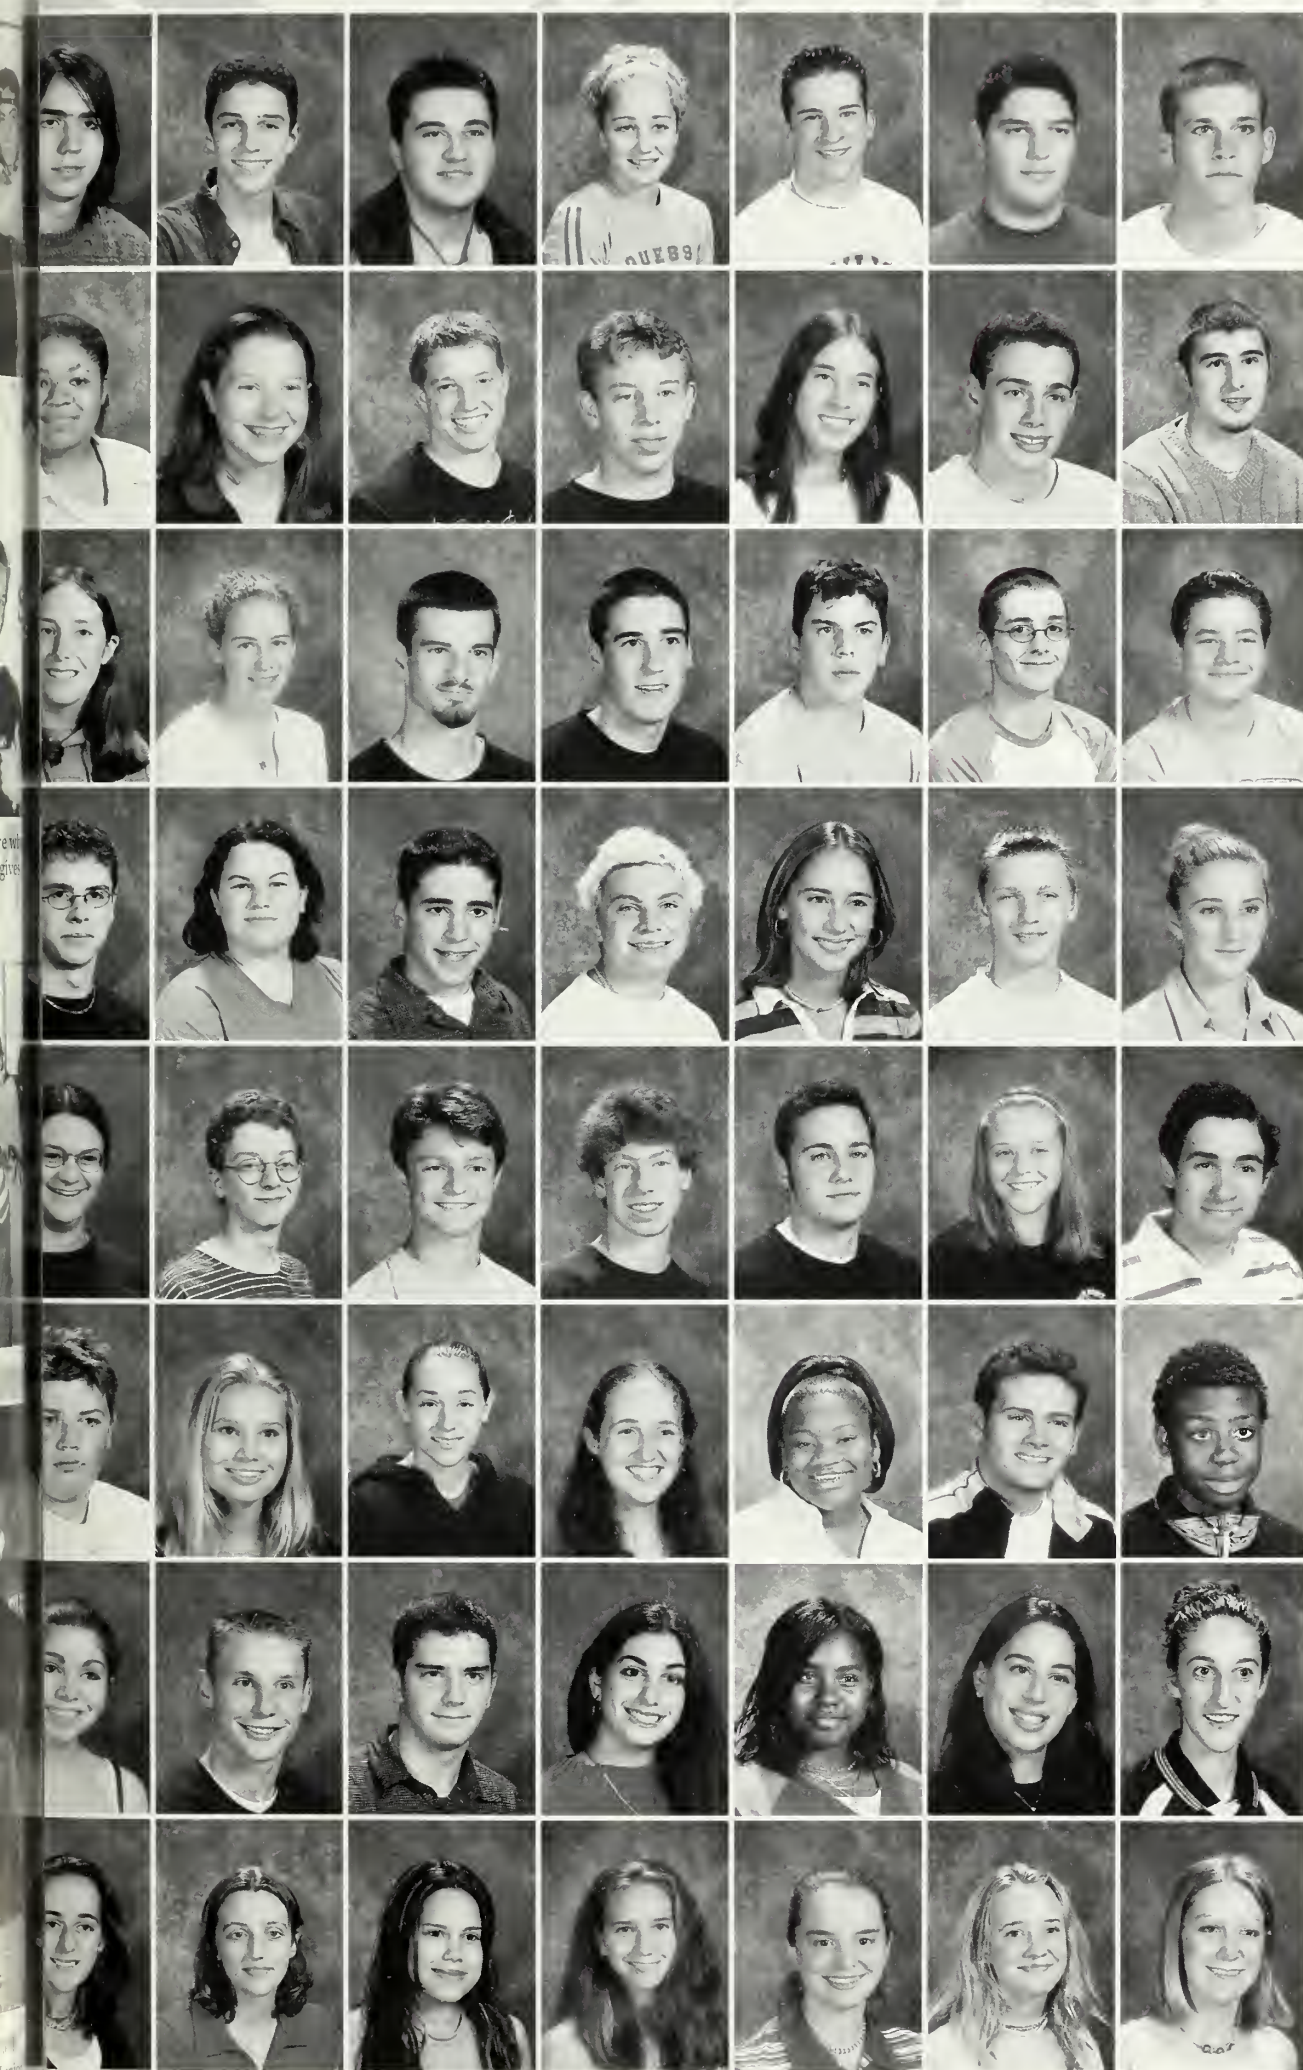

"Junior Year"...this phrase is usually followed by a grunt or an expression of disgust. Yes, it's true: Junior year is notorious for being the toughest year of high school, and from the looks of it, it seems as if it's living up to its reputation! The class of 2003 has made it clear that 11th grade is certainly a bit different than 9th and 10th. We are definitely not in Kansas anymore! With SAT stress, the Junior thesis, and college worries, Juniors have anything but a light schedule. But our class has proved that Junior year is not just difficult, but fun and exciting as well!

Having been down the "yellow brick road" a number of times, Juniors can hardly be classified as Underclassmen. But fear not, Class of 2003, the work is almost finished, and Emerald City (or shall we say "Senior City"!) is now in sight! It's all downhill from here! (or so we hope!)

Accepting her fate, Arielle Weisman agrees that Junior Year is the devil.

CLASS OF 2003

Jordan Bentley, Darren Gwin, and Dan Landau-Taylor regret the fact that they have no way of leaving campus for lunch.

Daphne King, Chelsea Boyles, Sabrina Fanger, and Lindsay Riedl enjoy lunch in the Tiger's Loft.

We can tell from his expression how Mike Eng feels about the stress of junior year, but what about Joe Liu and Rob Greenfield?

Hirut Fassil ponders what notebooks to take out of her locker.

Jake Anderson, Jenna Metson, and Jill Antonellis are all smiles—it's the last block of the day!

Mikannese, Sabrina Fanger, and Tommy huddle up on Main Street.

After a few hours of hard work, Deb Newburg needs a breath of fresh air.

Represent.

Sophie Rosenbaum, Sophia Paraschos, and Rachel Cole represent the class of 2003.

Attention Juniors!

We took a poll of a group of juniors to get some insight into their feelings about a number of issues that seem to be affecting their lives more and more each day. Here is what they had to say:

College Stress?

67% agree that it's in the back of their mind, but no major stress yet

21% are going to wait until the summer

8% know where they want to go already!

4% don't care!

SATs?

54% of you are a little stressed

23% are already being tutored

23% claim "I'm only a junior!"

Junior year so far?

48% think it's alright

35% are dying for summer

17% love it!

Sophomore Section

Our hard working class officers Trang Tieu, Jenna Hurwitz, Claire Dunning, Sam Vaghar, and Will McLoughlin

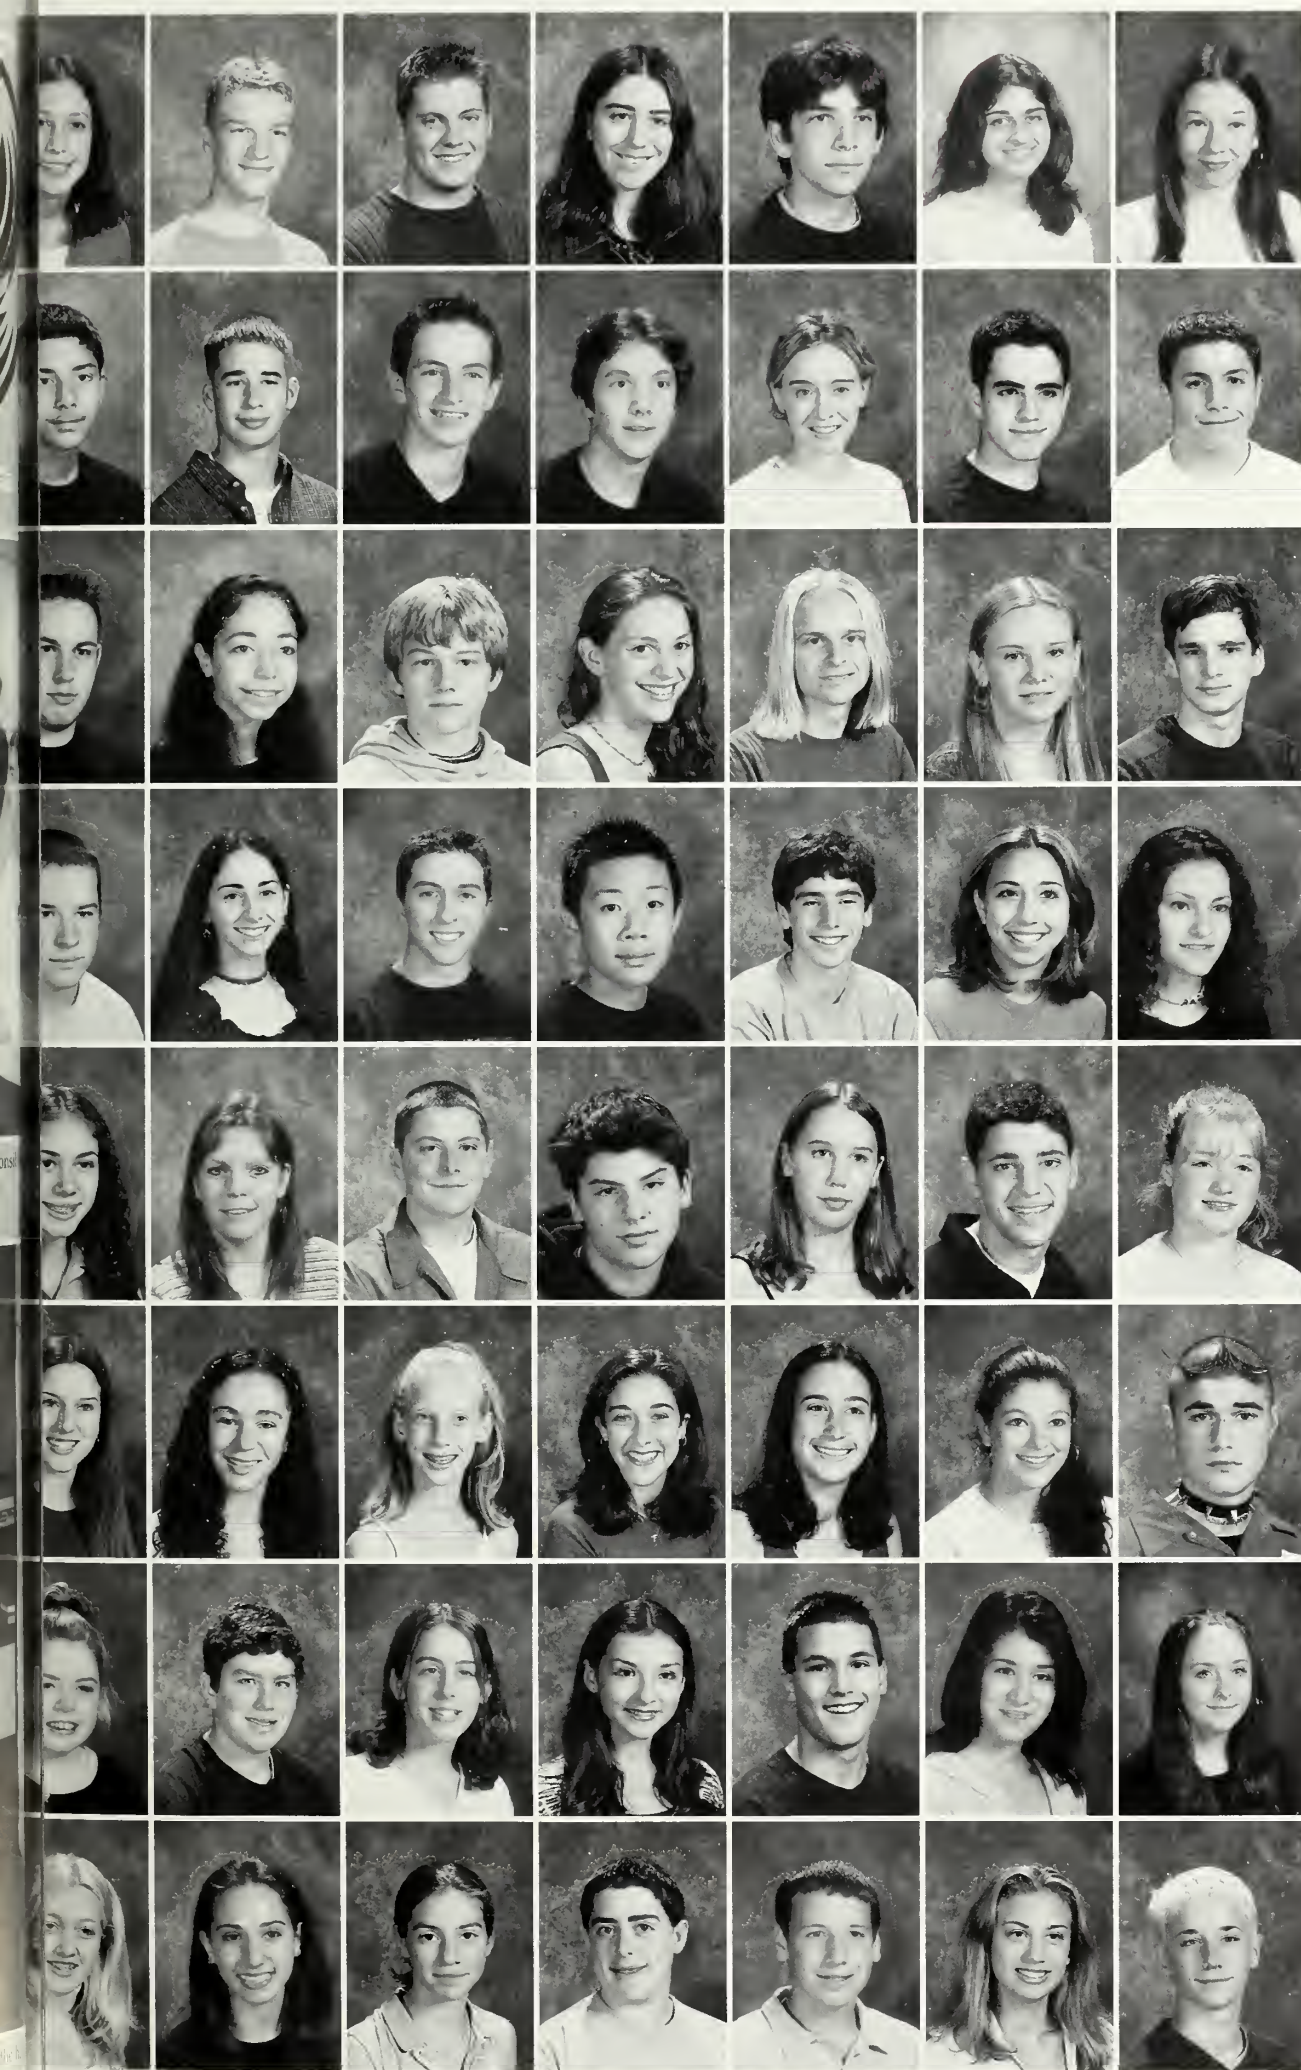

The class officers take a break from all of their Sophomore class responsibilities to mingle with the member of S.F.A.

So, what is a sophomore anyway? We're not lowly freshmen anymore, but we're still not upperclassmen. We have none of the cool privileges like being able to go off campus (legally!), or have frees, but we also don't have any of those stresses to worry about like college, the SAT's, and the Junior Thesis. We are more comfortable in the school than the Freshmen (yes, we finally have this building figured out). But, we are not as focused as the Juniors, with their frequent college meetings, or as laid back as the seniors, who have earned the right to wear pajamas to school every day. However, there is more to being a sophomore than feeling like the middle child. We have the Sophomore Sleepover, the MCAS (woo-hoo!), and two more years to look forward to. So get ready kids, because we're only half-way there!

Class of 2004

"Hey Josh Wilder and Josh Freedman!" Did you guys know that you have the same first name? We thought it was a bit confusing, too.

Cute and comfy on Main Street: Molly Harrison, Kayla Risko, Brianna Hecht, Marina Koltunova, and Cher Zao give the camera a friendly smile.

Lea Vesel and Nikita Aristarkhoc forced a little smile.

Peek-a-boo! Come on out from behind the bottle, Nick Clote. We all know it's you.

Kim Mhlaba and Kate Krems give two great big Sophomore Smiles.

We said "smile for the camera!" not, "hide from the camera!" Annie Devine is a bit sheepish.

Peter Hampton and Dan Signore in a failed attempt to look cool. Sorry boys, better luck next time!

Josh Lucente, Theo Bisbicos, Brett McCabe, Elaine Lai, Laura Francis, Sarah Gault, Mia Strauss, Rosina Belcourt are lookin' pretty philosophical.

Yiro Tanaka and Jaclyn Fleming have a meaningful conversation in a very crowded Main Street.

Annalisa Amicangelo and Alex Jasset are hard at work in Art class.

Freshman year is full of new experiences. With so many new pathways to explore, exciting opportunities present themselves around every corner—not to mention learning how to navigate the building, when many Freshmen are known to get lost around every corner. Seeing as freshman year is such an important transition, it is understandable why some find themselves feeling just a bit overwhelmed—how could they, with so many new experiences thrown their way? But the freshmen have proved themselves to be more than merely the “babies” of the school. They have met the looming challenge of entering high school, and exceeded all expectations. From hosting school dances to selling carnations for Valentine’s Day, the members of the Class of 2005 have already established themselves as true high schoolers. Just think of all of the fun that is to come over the next three years!

“Hey, we think we like it here!” Gwen Watson, Margo Watson, Julie, and Elena Rosen have already become accustomed to their new surroundings.

“We made Honor Roll!” Eric Beam and Jon Battat enjoy the glory of getting good grades in their first year of high school.

Last one on top is a rotten egg! Peter Joseph and Brett Bernard jump in for tackle.

Captains Blurb: Stick of the week, Marco, Wake up! I don't play defense, coach. Truffle, shuffle, shezas. Might as well have been shot with a deer rifle. Ya coach I'm a tough guy. It don't matter if your a skinny or a fatty. Braintree's band just played Puff Daddy. Break down Cronin. T-Rex, Vien! Open you eyes. Friday night lights baby! Vincent come inside me. Peace to coach Madsen. I'll never throw the ball to you son!! Coach Jesus...my bad. Thanx to all the coaches.

On Forest run! Dave Nurczynski sprints down the field for a touchdown.

Oh, bad bad bad boys. Vien Dargon, Brett Bernard and Ben Glerum get ready for intense practice.

It was a pleasure and a privilege for the coaches and myself to work with this year's senior class and team. It was a team that prided itself in its profound work ethic and its burning desire to give all it had for "one second longer" than any opponent on any play or any day. From its opening victory over Walpole to its Thanksgiving win over Brookline, there was a profound common constancy of purpose, closeness, and trust for each other that fueled its performances on the field. In each game, for example, the tigers' toughness and conditioning helped outscore its opponents in the second half. The tone set by the twenty seven seniors, led by captains David Bell, Nick Capodilupo, Vien Dargon, and Nico Gargaro, demonstrated self respect, ownership of actions, and a passionate joy in hitting. In the striking tradition of over one hundred years of Newton North football, the team of the fall of 2001 will be remembered as one of the most fierce and most exciting.

Oh Say Can You See. Vincent Dilorio watches attentively from the side lines.

The Varsity Competition Team: Kimmy Apfelbaum, Liz Bancroft, Jen Brown, Malory Cameron, Deanna D' Amore, Caitlin Dargon, Hana Dembe, Jackie Essinger, Kate Norcross, Lauren Nurczynski, Alisha Ricardi, Patricia Rudd, Bin Lee, Tiffany Cloonan, Stephanie Ahrens

The 2001 Junior Varsity Competition Team.

Captain's Blurb: To all our girls-We love you and we'll miss you! Thank you coach! DA BOMB Group! Happy Birthday Tiff! H to izzo, B to the inna, where are we going today Alisha? Bring it, what? We right here! The team's A.D.D..... hahahaha... Watch out for Lauren's illegal stretching. C's twitching eye. Hana, where'd that come from?

Cheerleading

... BLACK AND ORANGE!

Coach's Message: This has been an outstanding season marked by talent and dedication. With 40 cheerleaders in the program Dawn and I have done all we can to ensure that all of our cheerleaders come away with great memories of a season well spent. Growing the cheerleading program here at NNHS gets more and more exciting each year as our team becomes stronger and stronger. High expectations and endless hours of practice have been the foundation of the success our program has seen this season. The first day of practice we hung a poster that simply stated: "Championships are won at Practice"-Unknown. I could not have said it better as we live and breath that sentiment each day. I wish all of my seniors luck, good fortune, and happiness as they move on in the years to come. Each year you take a small piece of NNHS cheerleading with you and leave your mark on us forever. Thank you for your devotion, leadership, and support. "Optimism is the faith that leads to achievement. Nothing can be done without hope and confidence." -Helen Keller

That's Right! Captain Kate Norcross and senior Lauren Nurczynski are all business.

Top her! Bases Mallory Cameron, Kate Norcross, and Lauren Nurczynski stay strong as they support flyer Hana Dembe.

I'm going to Disneyworld! Coaches Alyssa Cifuni and Dawn Pellitien get psyched for their trip to Nationals.

Tiger cheerleading has come a long way from the sidelines at football games. Devoting 15-20 hours a week to practice and private gymnastic lessons, the Tiger cheerleaders have succeeded in supporting the football program at all home and away games, organizing pep rallies to unite our Tiger Pride, and competing in the sport of competitive cheerleading here in Massachusetts. 2001 has marked a year of turnaround here at NNHS. The tigers have made their mark as a front running competitor in the state. Earning scores as high as 239 out of 300 in the JV division and 251 out of 300 in the varsity division, the tiger cheerleaders have their eyes set on the opportunity to go to nationals in the next few seasons. Led by Varsity captains Bin Lee, Tiffany Cloonan, and Kate Norcross, the Tigers placed first at the Bay State Competition against long standing champions Framingham and Braintree High School. They are the first team in Newton North history to earn a bid to the Nationals in Florida.

How do we have to stay like this? Deanna D'Amore, Hana Dembe, and Stephanie Ahrens show off flexibility.

I believe I can fly! The team flyers show off their balancing skills.

Beat This, Tiger...

Ax+3zy=299 Chris Davis analyzes his next move.

The 2001 Golf Team.

Woods!

The Golf Team had a very successful season, placing 2nd in the Bay State Carey division and winning the Bay State All-Star tournament at Dedham C.C. Senior co-captains Mike Strom and Rob Thurston took individual All-Star awards along with Junior Rob Greenfield. Contributions were also given by Underclassmen David Silverman and Ben Moll. Seniors Zak Ozker and Josh Cohen had standout seasons, consistently turning in some of the teams best rounds.

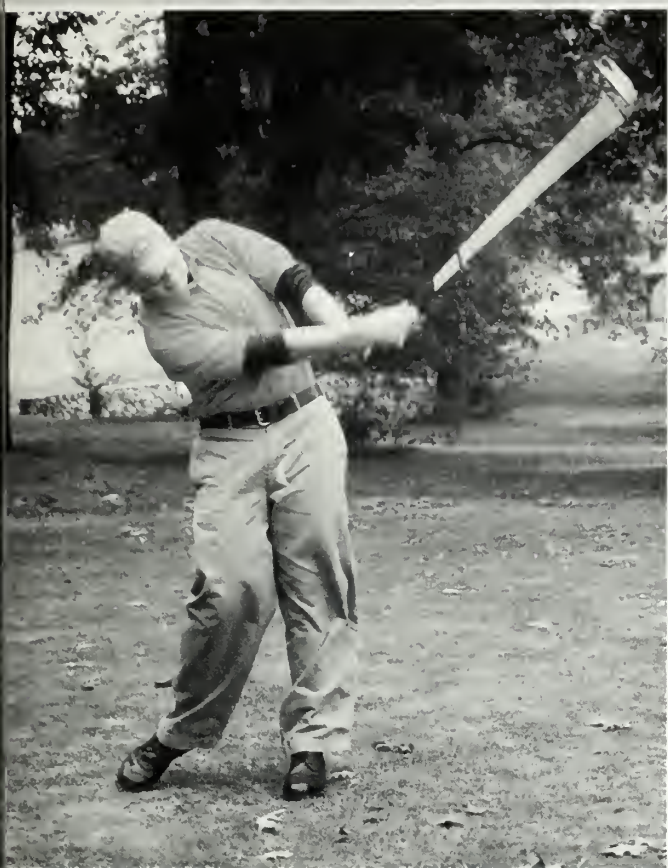

Fore! Seniors Robbie Thurston and Zack Osterer move out of the way as Josh Cohen whacks the ball.

Girl's Volleyball

You can do it. Put your back into it! Kristen Lee prepares to get down and under as she sets up for a skilled pass.

Pucker up! Kate Shaughnessy means business as she gets low to make a save.

Lisa Furina stands in position ready to make a great

Coach's Blurb: The Tigers fielded an almost entirely new starting lineup from last year's State Finalists. Led by seniors Lisa Furina and Brittany St. Sauveur, the team surprised preseason pundits who predicted a "rebuilding" year. The Tigers raced through the Bay State Conference, finishing alone at the top with a 15-1 record. The major attackers were the two seniors as well as Any and Sara Rabinovitch, and Laura Shapiro; key players on defense were Kate Shaughnessy and Kristen Lee, and the setters were Diane Weslowski and Rebecca Kunzendorf.

1, 2, 3 Ace! Kate Shaughnessy, Brittany St Sauveur, Diane Weslowski, and Sara Rabinovitch celebrate after a great play.

into my crystal ball! Annie Rabinovitch sees an ace in the future.

Captain's Blurb: I play volleyball, don't forget kate, roll! what are the north colors again? lime green and orange? 300 block jumps, "I was just being honest", stop chattering your teeth, whats my position? pole dance, louder Anny, soft hair, Brittany chill! yo you what up? apins Rule! Mary Columba, Sarah Shaughnessy and Shea Kelley smile after a successful season.

The team overcame a lot of uncertainty this year. With only three returning starters, the new players really stepped it up. The girls learned to believe in themselves and in their teammates. Together, they tied Norwood, scored on Walpole, and BEAT NEEDHAM to become the BSC DIVISION CHAMPS. Next years team will be a tone to be reckoned with!

Going the Distance: Boys Cross Country

The Boys Cross Country Team had its best season in many years. We were undefeated in the league competition and finished 6th in the State Class A Finals. We had 3 League All Stars- Chris Barnicle, Ben Heidlage, and Ciaran O'Donovan. Chris Barnicle also went on to place 13th in the All State Championship, was named to the Boston Globe All Scholastic Team, and won the Footlocker 9th Grade Championship in New York (Northeast Regional). With 48 boys participating we had the league's largest team as well. - Coach Blackburn

Captain's Blurb:

Congrats Boys, its been one hell of a season. We made it through tough practices, which in turn led to great victories. We would like to thank the team as a whole for pulling together and pushing each other to succeed. We are a pack, but we had more people than a pack. We are like a school, a school of fish. And like a school of fish we all contribute in defeating the enemy. We are all part of the whole. And with that we would like to leave you with a parting reminder: Never forget the fish.

Coach's Blurb: The 2001 Girl's Cross Country team had another wonderful year. We were led by our outstanding captains Remle Stubbs-Dame and Kendell Newman. The team was our youngest in years and their support and encouragement was the key to our success. Our one loss to Natick was one of the most exciting races in years with the lead going back and forth. This loss was avenged in the league meet as our young runners led us to an overwhelming victory. The season saw the great development of underclass runnes such as League All Stars Liz Gleason and Kendell Newman as well as sophomores Brittany Morse, Kathleen Hennessey, Sharon Ostrowsky and Liz Sanchez. The future looks bright!

SETTING HIGH GOALS

Coach's Blurp: Having graduated only six players from the 2000 team which went undefeated in the regular season and reached the Eastern Massachusetts Finals, the Tigers were poised to make a run at the State Championship in 2001. After making a significant off-season commitment, the team was dealt a major blow late in the summer when senior spark plug Sarah Shankman injured her knee and would be forced to miss the entire season. Nonetheless, the team, led by senior captains Jess Pfeifer and Sara Sedgwick, raced to a 6-0-1 record to start the season. After a mid season swoon, the team rebounded, and finished the season with a 10-4-4 record, and entered the post season tournament as the #8 seed in Division 1 North. After a first round win over Cambridge, the Tigers traveled to Winchester to face the perennial powerhouse and #1 seed. The Tigers upset the Sachems 1-0 and advanced to the next round to face Acton-Boxboro. A thrilling 2-1 sudden death overtime victory sent the Tigers back to the Division 1 North Finals. Unfortunately, the Tigers' luck ran out, and the team fell to Andover 1-0 in sudden death overtime. While the season ended short of the Tigers' ultimate goal, the team's ability to overcome adversity throughout the season was remarkable. The Tigers' incredible run in the tournament would not have been possible without the leadership and direction provided by seniors Emily Burke, Sara Kane, Mary McDonagh, Marina Oliveira, Jess Pfeifer, Ariel Samuelson, Sara Sedgwick, Sarah Shankman, and Rosanna Zuckerman. They taught the younger players many invaluable lessons and their presence will be sorely missed next fall. Seniors -- Thanks for all the memories! We miss you already, but remember "once a Tiger, always a Tiger!"

Concentrating on the ball Mary McDonagh yet another ball!!

Basketball was invented in 1891 by James Naismith. Naismith, the physical education teacher at the School for Christian Workers in Springfield, MA, was asked to create a game for his students to play during the winter season. The resulting game, Basket Ball, involved a soccer ball and two peach baskets (all that was available) attached to balconies on opposite sides of the gymnasium. The peach baskets were originally closed at the bottom. Players had to climb up a ladder to retrieve the ball after each basket. These baskets were soon replaced with metal rims and netting to catch the ball. In 1906, the netting was opened to let the ball fall through. In 1922, the model of basketball we use today was introduced.

Up until 1967, the NBA was the only professional basketball league. In 1967, the American Basketball Association (ABA) was formed. The league had a distinctive and flashy style, as shown through the red, white, and blue colored basketballs. Several of the NBA's finest players were convinced to switch leagues, and others, like Julius Erving, would go on to join the NBA when the ABA disbanded in 1976.

Overall 7-12-1

Co captains Phil Coletti and Jeff Colella led the 2001-2002 Tigers in year two of the rebuilding process by more than doubling their win total from last year finishing at 7-12-1. The Tigers played especially well during the second half of the season and even made a brief run at qualifying for the tournament with a 4-2-1 stretch that included a 2-2 tie against traditional power Needham, a 1-0 win against Weymouth in which Neil Hovasapian recorded his 2nd career shutout, a 6-1 thrashing of Natick and a thrilling come from behind 4-3 win against Brookline. Patrick Coughlin scored the game winner in the final minutes to complete the comeback at Brookline. With 7 sophomores and freshman returning, including Bay State League All Star Ryan Doherty and freshman standout defenseman Andrew Stevenson, a trip to the tournament for the first time in years is a real possibility.

These seniors were very special to the program and to the coaches. They were the freshman players when the program started and have been an intricate part of its development. With a young team and a great senior class to lead us we had a successful season. An outstanding tournament in Martha's Vineyard gave the team momentum to qualify for the state tournament, which was a honor for the team. With the tremendous season the team had five All League players. This team has really raised the bar for teams to come. The seniors never let anything get in their way, they always gave 110% every day no matter what was asked of them. "Obstacles are only seen when you take your eyes off the goal!"

Tougher practices, tough meets, and a few too many injuries, but we fought hard all year. Thanks to all the coaches for patience and help throughout the season, especially Staulo, Garret, Grady, and Schaeffer. Good luck to next year's captains and team.

"Macho, macho man, I want to be a macho man!" Captains Nick Beatrice, Alex Goldstein, and Sam Musen strike a tough pose.

Individual success and the emergence of an outstanding corps of youngsters were the big stories of the '01-'02 season. Captain Nick Beatrice had knee surgery just three weeks before the sectionals. Through extremely hard work and determination he soundly defeated all four opponents to become the Division I South Sectional Champion at 145 pounds. A week later he placed 6th in the Division I states after just missing the finals by one point. He set a great example for everyone. With an unprecedented nine freshmen earning varsity letters along with several sophomores and juniors, next season dual meet pictures should be one of greater depth and outstanding results. - Coach Staulo

Fun Facts

As skiing spread to the mainlands of Europe, previously used techniques became unsuitable for the mountainous terrain. Cross-country techniques were adapted to confine to the new landscape, and Alpine skiing was born.

The first form of a chair lift was used in 1854, and consisted of riding ore buckets up a conveyor belt. The development of real chair lifts in the 1930's made skiing more popular and accessible.

Strong dry-land training in November put us in great shape, and we startled the league at our first race, placing both boys' and girls' teams second. Forty percent saw varsity starts this season, and three freshmen qualified for the State Championships. Highlights include Stammers in the fifth race blasting through the finish on his back! Team captains raised team spirit for every event.

A Stroke of Genius

The 2002 Boys Swim Team

The Newton North swim team has been a guiding force in our lives for the past four years. We have enjoyed all the people involved with the swim team past and present. We would like to thank all the people who helped us along our journey to success these past four years. Coaches Kirsten Tuohy, Amy Richard and Joe Accanero have been incredible and we're glad we got the chance to train with them. And who could forget the absolutely inspiring coaching of Chris "Doc" Jones who could no longer be a member of this fine program our senior year. Most of all, we would like to thank our parents for pushing us to new levels inspiring us to seek out those personal bests and succeed where no one had before. To all members who were involved with this team this year, and future members, we hope you keep the spirit of the Newton North Tigers Swim Team alive in your minds and in your hearts. Good luck, and have fun.

Although around since the Ancient Egyptians chased their enemies across the Orontes River, the sport of swimming did not become well-established until the late nineteenth century, because for many years, immersion in water was linked to epidemic diseases. In 1896, swimming took its place as one of the first sports at the very first Olympic Games in Athens, Greece.

The Boys Track Team is looking forward to the outdoor track season. As defending League Champions we are hoping for another successful season. Led by Captains Dave Moriarty, Dan Robb, Dave Bell and Noah Isaacs, we also hope to contend at the state level with All-State Runner of the Year Dan King and the All-State 4 by 400 relay champions (Dan King, JB Ronfard, Dan Robb and Dan Lolli) leading the way. Throwing specialists Dave Bell, Jim Otten and Matt Frankel should also excel in shotput and discus. In the hurdles, Dave Moriarty, Joe Liu, and Mark Bercy are league leaders. Also outstanding in the league are long jumpers Ben Fulton and Nkosi Still. Distance runners are led by Ciaran O'Donovan, Chris Barnicle, Gerrit Albertson, and Ben Haywood. Lolli and Moriarty are among the state's best in the high jump...Dan Lolli is also second best in the State 600, who'll shine in the individual 400 meters.

Clubs

“We represent the lollipop guild”

Gay-STraight Alliance

The Gay-Stright Alliance, with over 40 members this year, is the cool place to chill and be yourself, no matter who you are or might be. They spread awareness about people of all kinds of sexual identity and orientation, coordinate events such as the annual To B GLAD (Transgender, Bisexual, Gay and Lesbian Awareness Day), and marching in Massachusetts' Gay /Straight Youth Pride March in May. The club also has awesome Mixers with other local GSAs and reacts to specific incidents of intolerance. The main mission of the Gay-Straight Allience is to make sure that everyone feels safe, comfortable and happy here at Newton North.

Latino Culture Club

The club teaches the Newton North community about Latino culture while introducing modern and traditional dances and cuisine. They create a comfortable, relaxed environment in which everyone can voice their thoughts and opinions. They aspire to keep the school interested in Latino Culture while making the whole experience enjoyable. The club's main event is "Latino Culture Day" in which professional panels of Hispanics are invited to provide the school community with information on the culture. Meetings encourage socializing, learning and teaching typical dances, and confronting stereotypes made against Latinos.

Bible Study

"The eyes of the Lord are toward the righteous, and His ears are open to their cry." Psalm 34:15.

Bible study is for those who wish to strengthen their relationship with God, and those who are interested in meeting new people. Bible study sponsors "See You At The Pole", and the "National Day of Prayer". Bible study also invites the school to discuss controversial religious issues. Everyone is welcome: "Trust in the Lord with all your heart and do not lean on your own understanding." Proverbs 3:5

Chess Club

Chess is the ultimate sport because it takes brains, guts, skill and concentration to win. Plus, it's tons of fun! The chess club is a place to play, learn, and watch the game. The main event is the annual statewide team tournament in April. They placed fifth out of about 20 in 2001. All levels of ability are welcome as well as all different playing styles. They try to participate in other tournaments as well as organize tournaments within the club itself.

Triathletelete Club

A triathlon is a competitive event that includes swimming, biking, and running. The Newton North Triathlete Club participates in the Hyannis Sprint 1 Triathlon in the beginning of June 2002. The events of this triathlon are a 1/2 mile swim, a 10 mile bike, and a 3.5 mile run. Although some club members participate individually, there is the option of competing as a member of a relay team. The club encourages members to participate in the triathlon however not all members will. They work together to reach their goals whether they are simply getting into better shape or competing in a triathlon.

The primary goal of the Crew Club is to recruit people to join Community Rowing Incorporated. There, people learn how to row for fun and compete on a varsity level team. Everybody is welcome, from novice to experienced rowers. This past year, the competitive boys' and girls' teams, which are composed of kids from all over the Boston area, participated in the Youth Rowing Nationals and also competed in the Head of the Charles, which the girls' team won. The girls' varsity team is ranked among the top three girls' teams in the country. The captains of the girl's team are Becca Sauer and Isabel Owen.

Asian Culture Club

The Asian Culture Club meets to build a better awareness of Asian culture not just for Asians but anyone who is willing to learn about it. Each week, the club's officers (Alan Chan, Jia Li, Phong Cao, and Christie Xie) meet with its members to brainstorm ways to help end misconceptions about the Asian cultures. They organize exciting events such as airsoft, ice skating at Frog Pond, and the annual Pot Luck. The Asian Culture Club also continues its tradition of organizing two events to foster understanding of Asian cultures: Asian Culture Day and Asian Culture Night.

In the Animal Rights Club, people who care about animals come together to discuss animal-related issues, volunteer at shelters, and organize club events. The group goes to events dedicated to animal rights as well as vegetarian dinners. They also try to raise awareness each year through guest speakers on campus every year on Animal Rights Day.

Bracelet Buddies

Bracelet Buddies is a fun, charitable club where students make friendship bracelets and donate them to children in hospitals around Boston. This club offers a stress-free and relaxing environment where you can meet new people and learn new ways of making friends. They make bracelets, while having a good time and contributing to a good cause.

Human Rights Board

Junior National Association of the Deaf

JrNad is primarily made up of deaf students, but is open to anyone interested. JrNad is involved in a variety of activities such as fund-raisers and community service projects.

Students on the Human Rights Board address issues involving diversity in the school. Students, teachers and clubs can share concerns with the board. The goal is to make sure everyone at Newton North is respected and feels comfortable here. In past years the board has helped the Leadership class plan Break Barriers Day and brainstorm ideas for a follow-up program. Last year the board submitted a request to teachers to use only closed captioned videos, and also worked with the housemaster and principal to figure out how to announce an incident of graffiti to the school. Most clubs are represented on the board, and all are welcome.

Alpha Pi Delta is a step squad made up of 18 dedicated and confident members. Not only do they host the annual Step Show at NNHS, but they also take part in many national step competitions and school events throughout the year. They welcome all who are interested.

ART CLUB

Lisa Lokshin shows underclassmen how to make a pot.

Art Club is a place where the talented and those who think they are not talented come together. It is a place where anyone is welcome as long as they are prepared to have fun and be creative. We work with all types of media, from pencil, to clay, to chalk.... basically whatever we are in the mood for. With beautiful officers and free food, who could resist?

The Art Club.

PAWS Mediation

Positive Agreement Works (PAWS) is a peaceful, alternative method for helping to resolve conflicts between members of the student body. There is a two-day mediation training for students and staff and two "refresher" sessions each year. Mediators also attend National Mediation Week presentations in April.

Mentors in Violence Prevention

MVP motivates students to play a central role in facing difficult issues in society: violence against women and gender harassment. Newton North students are trained as mentors in violence prevention, gender harassment prevention, and the promotion of gender respect. In turn, these North students educate eighth graders throughout Newton on these issues. With male and female students working together as allies, MVP makes a difference.

Fantasy Role Playing Club

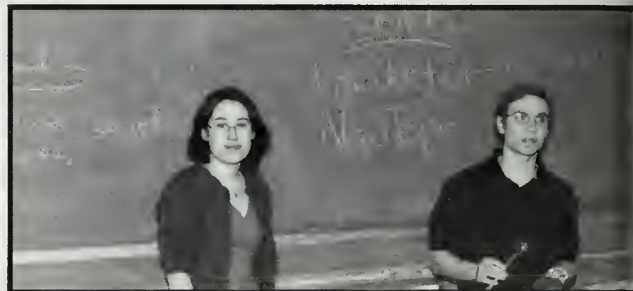

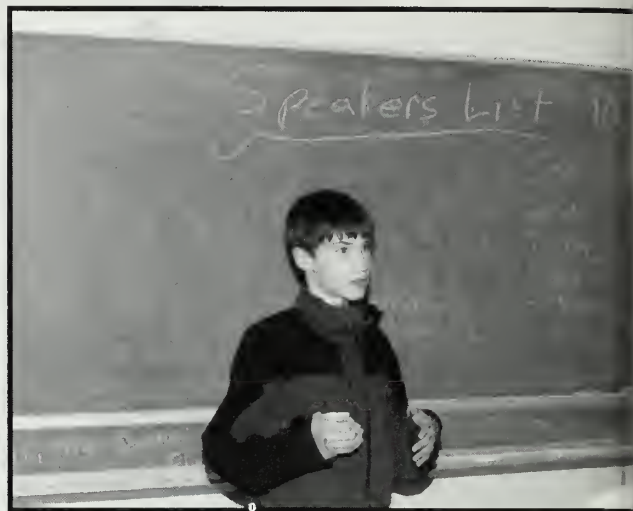

From exploring dungeons to searching through mazes, the Fantasy Role Playing Club gives students a place to act out different characters and worlds. By playing different role-playing games, members have the opportunity to forget reality for a while. The club doesn't only use pen and paper to draw fantasies, but on occasion get dressed up and acts them out. Headed by science teacher Christine Carpenter, the informal club meets Wednesdays and Fridays after school.

The Newton North Model United Nations Club simulates the environment of the United Nations in an effort to discuss and resolve global issues. Following the rules of the U.N. students debate issues ranging from simulated international crises to actual events in international politics. Students then resolve these issues proposing action to remedy the situation.

Orange Shield

OrangeShield is Newton North's largest community service club. Every year the club directors establish projects around the school and the Greater Boston Area. Some projects include helping at school events such as Parents Night, tutoring at Bigelow and Day Middle School, and helping at Second Step and much more. Students from all grades are encouraged to participate in the club's activities.

Peer Education

Peer Education is made up of an absolutely awesome group of students who meet weekly to focus on issues related to alcohol, drugs, drinking and driving, healthy choices, friendships and family. Formerly in partnership with the Elementary School D.A.R.E. program, the goal of the group is to reach out and inform other students of all ages (grades 5-12) and to become a resource for students, friends, and family members. The group is open to sophomores, juniors and seniors, who meet on a weekly basis. There is also an Advanced Peer Educator program open to those as second year members. They help to recruit and mentor new members, while creating new prevention programs for younger students. The group is headed by Suzi Kaitz, a Health and Drug/Alcohol Education Specialist.

Newton North's Organization For Women

NNOW was restarted this year with the hopes of bringing about a higher level of awareness of women's issues to the school. They emphasize the continuing struggles and accomplishments of women in society. At the meetings, people discuss issues concerning women's rights and making the community more aware of the challenges women face and the opportunity available to them. The Newton North Organization for Women volunteers at local clothing drives and sponsors speakers. They strive to provide a warm and inviting environment for all members, both male and female, of the North community to discuss gender issues.

Principal's Community Action Team

The Principal's Community Action Team meets twice a month on the 2nd and 4th Monday during X-block. This creative and action oriented group is dedicated to finding community service projects that connect NNHS with the city. The team has co-hosted seniors from the Senior Center in Newtonville to attend performances of school plays, and nominated students each month for awards for their community service to the school. The team has gotten involved in new projects this year such as hospital visiting, working with Second Step (a shelter for battered women and their children), and helping repaint the lockers on Main Street. Anyone and everyone is welcome. Just energy and a willingness to help others are the only requirements for membership! The club benefits from mid-afternoon snacks and treats and enjoys talking and making new friends from all four classes.

International Club

Students in the International Club are eager to meet other students from other countries and experience this school's diversity. The Club hosts a wonderful Halloween Dance, an international food potluck dinner and a spring picnic. They also took an ice skating trip to New Hampshire. The club has 10-15 regular members, but everyone is welcome.

Tomorrow's Teachers

Students who may be interested in a teaching career can learn about education in Tomorrow's Teachers. Headed by counselor Darby Verre, members are encouraged to seek out the many job opportunities in the field as it is one of the most rewarding careers one can have. Bright, enthusiastic people are inspired to go into teaching in the next decade. Meetings include guest speakers, discussions on issues in education or field trips to educational institutions. Students also have the opportunity to work with student teachers in the school and help tutor in the middle schools.

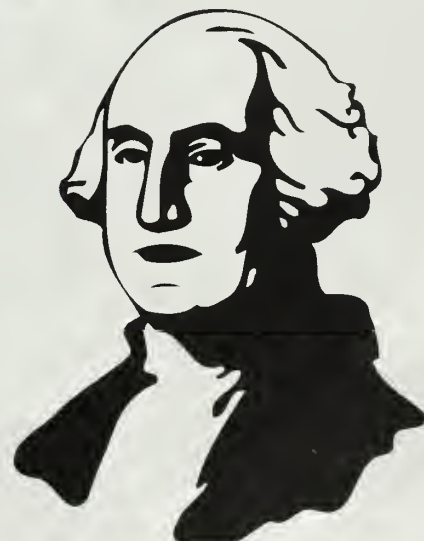

Ski Club

The Ski Club plans four trips, two overnight and two day trips each year. Destinations include Jay Peak, Loon Mountain, Sunday River and Waterville Valley. Based on interest and desire, the club does a lot of its own planning instead of going through a tour company. While there is no limit on the number of people in the club, trips themselves are on a first-come, first serve basis. They fill up very quickly and are a lot of fun.

Harry Potter Club

Led by Seniors Danielle Naugler and Gen Jarek, the Harry Potter Club is an organization aimed at bringing together students who equally appreciate Rowling's great literature.

Mock Trials

In addition to listening to Cypress Hill and making fun of people from Nebraska, the Mock Trials team participates in the annual state-wide competition sponsored by the Massachusetts Bar Association. The winner of the state championship trial goes to a National tournament in May. In 2001, the team won states and placed sixteenth overall in the United States Nationals. Members audition for roles as witnesses and lawyers and try fictional cases against other schools. Students learn about the legal system and rules of evidence and have a chance to put their skills to use in a courtroom in front of real judges. While it's a lot of fun, it is also a lot of work and requires a significant time commitment. The team meets after school Wednesdays and Sundays.

THOUGHTPRINTS

Thoughtprints, the literary and art publication, publishes a calendar in December and a magazine in May. All students are invited to participate whether as an editor or by submitting their work.

Jazz Club

The Jazz Club aims to create an atmosphere where people come together in a mutual appreciation for jazz. They believe in the importance to keep an art alive through community appreciation. Every meeting has a different theme with activities ranging from listening to members' favorite CDs to playing music. They also take trips to see local jazz professionals and hold jam sessions.

+ - Math Team *

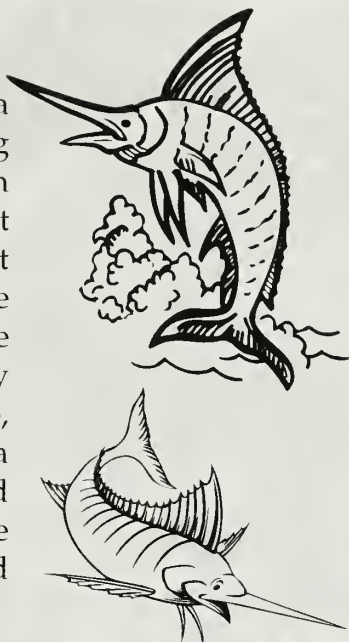

Math Team aims to provide interested, talented students with an opportunity to compete interscholastically. The team competes against schools in the Greater Boston Math League at five meets a year. On an A- and a B-team, students individually take three-question tests in algebra 1, algebra 2, geometry, number theory and precalculus. Some parts of the competition are geared to younger students as underclassmen are encouraged to come compete along with the many senior and junior members.

FISHING CLUB

The Newton North Fishing Club is a noncompetitive, highly-relaxing club of students who focus on camaraderie and their love of the great outdoors. Fishing in general is not only an artform, but a euphoric meditation through which one is able to grasp nature and gain a wholly cosmic awareness. The Fishing Club, headed by Senior Noah Isaacs, is a grand tradition here at North and will continue as long as there are flowing streams, fishing rods and open minds.

Peer Mentors

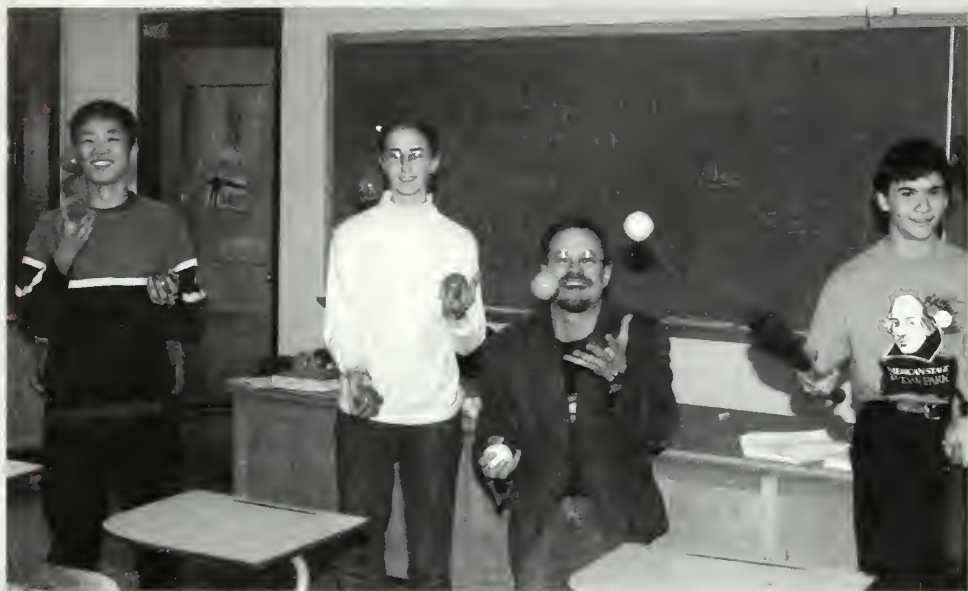

Peer Mentors try to help transfer students feel more at home. Members make new students aware that there are people who want to help them and provide them with a face they know and a person they can turn to. All mentors are required to attend one meeting per month together, and if a mentor is assigned to work with a specific student, that mentor is required to work with that student for at least two days. While it is a big commitment, it is a rewarding experience. In addition to helping new students, Peer Mentors visit middle schools to answer 8th-graders' questions. According to advisor and counselor Michele Kennedy, members apply by writing an essay on why they would be a good peer mentor and what they would bring to the organization and ask two teacher recommendations.

In its first year, the Scrabble Club (pictured left) organized tournaments, each lasting about four weeks. Towards the beginning of the year, people brought in their own boards, but eventually held a fundraiser to purchase those specifically for the club. Headed by science teacher Ann Dannenberg and sophomore Rob Korobkin, the club now meets on a weekly basis.

Juggling Club

Stock Market Club

Off to another exciting year, the Stock Market Club is always optimistic. Members raised $600 for investing and then commenced an intensive selection process for the final stocks in which the club invests. All profits are put in a scholarship for a student interested in pursuing business as a career.

VOICES

VOICES is a singing club open to all. Members visit retirement homes and hospitals. They offer singers of all talent levels the opportunity to sing and bring happiness to the lives of others. Practices are convenient and short. They sing both familiar and popular songs. It's a lot of fun and a wonderful experience for both the members and the people they sing to.

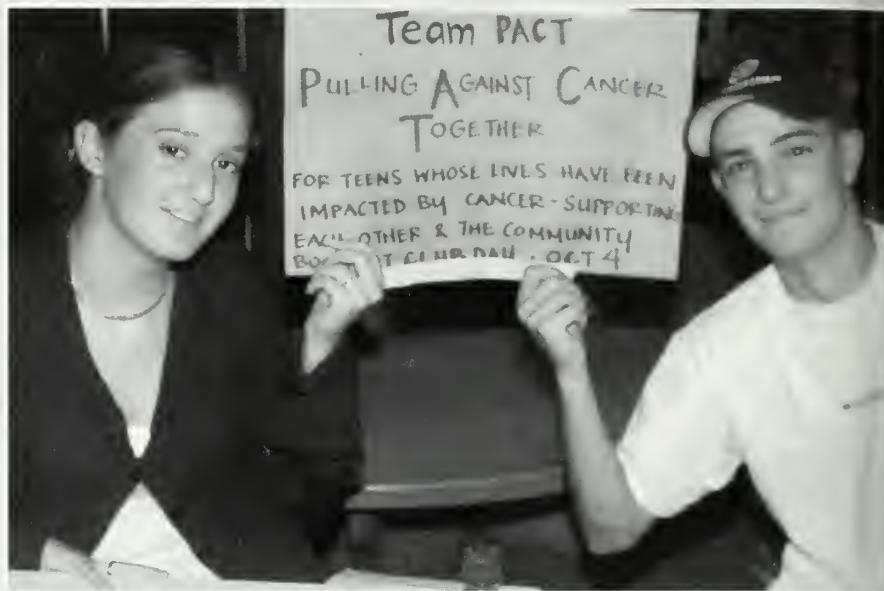

Improv Club

The Improv Club is a safe environment for people to learn, practice, and fail at improvisational theatre. Headed by the dashing, irresistible and well-groomed Dan Canton and the godly Kathleen Hornby, no members can resist laughing nonstop (sometimes so much that your side hurts, which could be your appendicitis). Improv Club is a place for all good-hearted souls. And Canadians, too!

Team P.A.C.T.

Team Pulling Against Cancer Together, led by officers Jennifer Kunzendorf, Jimmy DiSalvo, and Kara Urion, is an organization for students affected by cancer in their friends or family. Our goal is twofold; to become active in the community spreading cancer awareness and supporting each other. They hold awareness days at the school and walk to raise money for cancer.

Hiking Club

Officer Joni Waldron relishes her GORP.

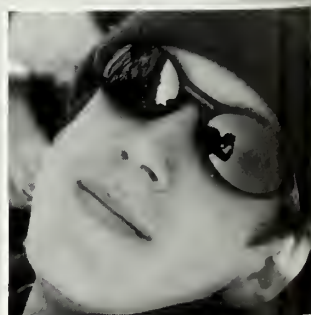

"Sure, we know which way we're going!" The Club goes on a training trip to the Blue Hills.

The Hiking Club does a variety of hikes to get beginners outside and learn about the sport. Members enjoy snowshoeing and aren't weirded out by bugs and dirt. About once a month, they go on hikes, led by science teacher Beth Holmberg.

Jake Palaches = Cool Hiker Dude.

Women's Ultimate Frisbee

The Women's Ultimate Frisbee Team has developed a very strong group of players that are both laid-back and dedicated. Unlike many typical sports, Ultimate Frisbee is easy to learn and beginners are always welcome. Just remember that you can always blame it on the wind! According to captains Becca Herskovitz and Shimrit Paley, "We may not win every game, but we definately have fun."

Men's Ultimate Frisbee

Newton North's Ultimate Frisbee Program is one of the most competitive in the country. Since 1992, the team has competed in high school tournaments along the eastern seaboard. Last spring, the team, en route to a 25-7 record, won a tournament in Philadelphia and placed fifth at the Amherst Invitational. The team also competed in Nashville, Tennessee where it placed eleventh in the country at the Junior National Championships. The class of 2002 has one of the best groups to ever play for Newton North. More than ten players will graduate after this season, including tri-captain Tom Burkly, Andy Aikens, and Russ Paine. The goals for the 2002 team were ambitious, yet realistic for a team which is returning all but one senior from last year. During the spring, Burkly, Aikens, Dave Berney-Nexileman, Nat Royer, and Mike Minoff competed for spots on the U.S. Junior National Team. The U.S. team travels to Latvia during the month of August to play against fifteen teams from different countries for the Junior World Championship.

Student Faculty Administration

In 1924, two separate boards, one comprised of students and one comprised of faculty, called the Associates, were created in order to manage Newton North. However, it became apparent that the only way to effectively make changes in the school was through a combined effort of two groups. From these beginnings, the Student Faculty Administration was created in 1972, in hopes of fixing problems with school policies. This year, the board was led by two co-chairs: History and Social Sciences teacher Albert Cho and senior Nick Carter, along with principal Jennifer Huntington. Two of the board's main goals were to reconnect to the school and keep updating existing school policies to better serve the NNHS community. With these goals in mind, the SFA decided to allow only seniors to park in third lot and is considering requiring only one teacher report for juniors.

BIG Brother BIG Sister

Seniors Jo Rosenberg and Emily Sowalsky take time out of their busy schedules to be with their little sisters, Meghan Doucette and Emma Halwitz.

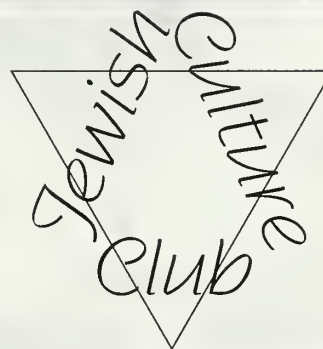

This is a year-long service learning program in which participants have the wonderful opportunity to serve as a big brother or big sister to needy children in Newton. The first marking period involves orientation to the program and weekly evening meetings with the social worker in charge of the program. These meetings become supervisory sessions when the young person is assigned to you in November. Each participant must see the child he is assigned, after school or on weekends, for two and half hours per week from November through May. A journal of your experience and some simple written assignments related to the child are required.

English as a Second Language

The ESl classroom provides a great environment for kids from foreign countries who need extra help in overcoming the language barriers. Students are really able to draw on their own experiences of adjusting to a foreign culture and help each other make the transition. Although getting familiarized with the USA is a tough challenge, it is essential that ESL students still associate and celebrate their roots, because "that's who they are."

The Newton North Career and Technical Education programs are intended to encourage students to graduate successfully with a marketable skill, self-confidence, and a head start on post-secondary education, whether they enter the world of work directly from high school, attend post-secondary technical training programs, or gain admission to 2 and 4 year colleges. From Carpentry to Drafting to Graphic Arts, students may get involved in the numerous course clusters. According to teacher Scott Rosenhahu, "Students should drop all their classes and join Tech Voc because it offers skills that you can really use after high school."

It's the horror that lurks in the dark, hides under your bed, and pounces on you when you least expect it.... the junior thesis. The need to write a 10 to 20 page paper is beyond me, I mean what exactly am I trying to prove? I guess you can say that I have learned the complicated art of how to maximize my caffeine intake, managed to work several consecutive nights until the stress busting hour of 4:30 AM, and successfully figure out how to stay awake in class the morning after thesis deadlines. Most importantly, I now know more than anyone could possibly want to know about how Barbie's image during the late 1920's affected the stereotypical portrayals of Japanese in Hollywood films, which all leads up to the mistreatment of Irish immigrants during Macarthyism and how their response stimulated the suburban growth of Newton, Massachusetts. Looking back, it was a great experience, one that I wouldn't trade for anything... except maybe some sleep.

Requiem for the Thesis-Bound Junior

-David Glod

A clock does hang upon the wall, morose,
As seconds, minutes, hours fly toward doom,
And yet I sit, as stacks of notecards boast
"Fool boy, this desk shall ever be your tomb."
A pile of books will guard my door tonight,
The eyeless, watchful sentries of my task,
But failing that, as I'd presume they might,
They'll hold foes in, and me myself, alas!
And thus I stare, with glazed eyes bloodshot,
Into the blue-eyed glare of this white screen,
Naught does it lack but text, for naught
Now breaks the piercing silence, so obscene.
But hark! the thesis calls me back to heel - I'm missed.
May all the nights I see bring less alarm than this.

Hiding behind a quiet facade, the "Glod," formally known as David Glod, ponders the ethics of Macarthyism versus Japanese stereotypes as seen in Hollywood during the 1920's.

Graphing Calculators: The Addictive Fad

After shelling out almost one hundred dollars for a graphing calculator, it's no wonder why students need to find extra reasons, besides math, for spending all that money. What students need is a release from their stressed-filled classes, a break from reality. That outlet is provided in the graphing calculator. In the form of Frogguts, Tetris, Golf, Mario, Fall Down, and Bowling, the perfect stress release has been found. Students, just make sure that you restrict yourself to playing during "appropriate" class times, or else all those wonderful games can be wiped out with the touch of a button before you can say..."I won!"

Lindsey Dahlben smiles victoriously as she gets a high score of sixteen hundred in Fall Down.

The leadership class of 2002 accepts students based on the leadership qualities in the classroom, in extracurricular activities and in the school community. Students of the leadership class debate school issues and read books by current authors. In the fall, the leadership students go on a retreat to Thompson's Island. Other activities include academic debates and presentations, listening outside speakers, and exploring issues such as multiculturalism. Students are required to keep a journal throughout the year. All the students meet with a faculty member biweekly to discuss material they wrote about in their journal. Students work on the skills of reading, note taking, summarizing and reacting to themes, interpreting statistics, debating, writing clear and precise position papers, and techniques of oral presentation. At the end of the year, the students create a curriculum unit of their choice to be presented to the school departments and members of the community.

Leadership

The 2002 Leadership class

Ms. Gillis

Remembered in our hearts and through our actions.

Dear Ms. Gillis

We will always remember the first day we walked into your class; "I'm not one of those touchy feely kind of teachers," you said. But soon we were visiting room 213 during frees and after school. We were always disappointed when you would send us home halfway through a detention, which you so often gave, because we were having too much fun.

We will always remember how you never gave up on us; and the way that your encouragement went beyond chemistry tests. You made each of us believe that we could do anything and more importantly, you helped us find our desire to succeed.

We will always remember the smile that you tried to hide when we interrupted class with a joke or a strange comment. We will remember the way you somehow made chemistry an enjoyable class. We will always remember the pre-prom picture we took just for you. We will always remember your passion for teaching, but most of all, we will always remember you!

"Maybe some people aren't meant to be in our lives forever. Maybe some people are just passing through it. Its like some people come through our lives to bring us something ; a gift, a blessing, a lesson that we need to learn."

Love always,

Em, Jess, Jo, and Kate

Dear Ms. Gillis,

I found out in the hall, on my way to physics, that you were gone. Dead. Just like that. I didn't believe it at first, as rumors often prove false. But this one was true, and when they announced your death over the loud-speaker, I didn't know what to do. So I cried.

I had been planning to write you an e-mail that very day to let you know that I was doing well in physics, but that I still liked chemistry better. I still do prefer chemistry, and I have you to thank for that. You were, in every sense of the word, a mentor for me.

I remember the beginning of last year, and my first days of chem class. I have to admit that I was initially intimidated by you and your strict policies. However, as the year wore on, I began to admire you. You were a young, intelligent woman who knew how to handle the classroom, which is never an easy job. You made yourself to your students by coming in early in the morning and staying late after school to answer our endless questions about moles, molecules, and atoms. Although I can't necessarily speak in behalf of my classmates, you taught to my learning style, and consequently, I was able to gain a concrete understanding of chemistry that I don't think I could have achieved under anyone else's guidance.

At the end of the school year, you announced that you would not be returning to Newton North in the fall. You told us that you didn't think you and teaching were a good match, and so you had taken a job at a pharmaceutical company. I still recall the shock I felt upon hearing you say that. You were the best teacher I had ever had, and you didn't even realize it. So I went up to you and told you so. I'm so glad that I did, because I know that you left North knowing how much your students appreciated you.

It has been nearly half a year now since your death, but you have not been forgotten. I have made a special place for you in my mind, and every now and then, like when I pass by your old office in room 213, I think of you. Sometimes it makes me sad, and at first I used to turn away from the teacher who sits at your old desk, but now I just glance in and remember you.

I will always be grateful for having you as a teacher. You taught me a good deal of chemistry, but you also taught me to have faith in myself. When I take AP chem next year, I am certain that my success in your class will motivate me to work hard. After all, you were the one who inspired me to pursue a science-oriented career. Ms. Gillis, thank you for being the supportive educator that you were. I will miss you always.

Sincerely,

Arielle Weisman

Dear Missy,

I met Mellissa Gillis (otherwise known as "Missy" by her friends) in graduate school at Simmons College. Since we were both ultimately to become science teachers, we were in the same "Science Methods in Teaching" class. The first night of class we introduced ourselves. That is when I found out we were both doing our Student Teaching at NNHS. As our Student Teaching year here went on, our friendship grew. We ate lunch together daily, we graded papers, we planned for class together and eventually we graduated from our Master's program together.

When Missy told me last year that she would not be returning to NNHS, I was very sad. On the last day of school in June we hugged and said, "See ya later." Not for one minute did I even think that would be the last time I ever saw her again. I feel truly blessed to have known her for the three short years I did. She is and will be truly missed.

I love you, Missy!

"We will always remember how you never gave up on us..."

"You were the best teacher I had ever had..."

"She is and will be truly missed"

There's No Place Like North!

SAMANTHA LOKICH

"Sam, are you a princess?" We asked.

And she said, "I'm much more than a princess but you don't have a name for it yet here on earth."

YOU MAKE THE STARS COME OUT!

*Love,
Elizabeth, Mom and Lucy*

ACHANTEL THORNTON

ACHANTEL,

Life has two rules: #1. Never Quit #2. Always remember #1.

Life is going to be a challenge. There will be rough times, difficult situations, obstacles, hurdles, disappointments to accept, feelings to understand and promises to keep to yourself.

Now you know what to expect, prepare yourself, Get ready. The only way to get where you want to be is to do what needs to be done to get there. The moment you give up, it will never get done.

Hang on to your dreams. We're proud of your accomplishments and continued success in all of your endeavors.

*We love you Mom, Dad
Shanay, Tyrone, Jr., Grandma, Nana and Temika*

HENRY BRENNAN

DEAR HENRY,

With each passing year,
we've watched you grow

“Does a hero know she is a hero if no one tells her?

Do you know a hero no one else knows?

A hero doesn't have to save a bus load of school kids from certain disaster.

Or score the winning point in the big game.

A hero can be anyone who inspires you, anyone you look up to, anyone who cheers you on, makes you better than you were before - just as they make themselves better than they were before.

Do you know a hero?

Tell her!

Then tell everyone!”

Congratulations to the Class of 2002!

To believe in a child is to believe in the future. Through their aspirations they will save the world. With their combined knowledge the turbulent seas of hate and injustice will be calmed. They will champion the cause of life's underdogs, forging a society without class discrimination. They will supply humanity with music and beauty as it has never known. They will endure.

Guess who's graduating...

Hints:

She used to think Elvis was king, but these days she's N' Sync with the boys from the Backstreet.

There was a time when she favored a Full House, but now she prefers an apartment filled with Friends.

When she was younger, Fred and Ginger were her favorite stars. Now Reese, J. Lo and Britney are.

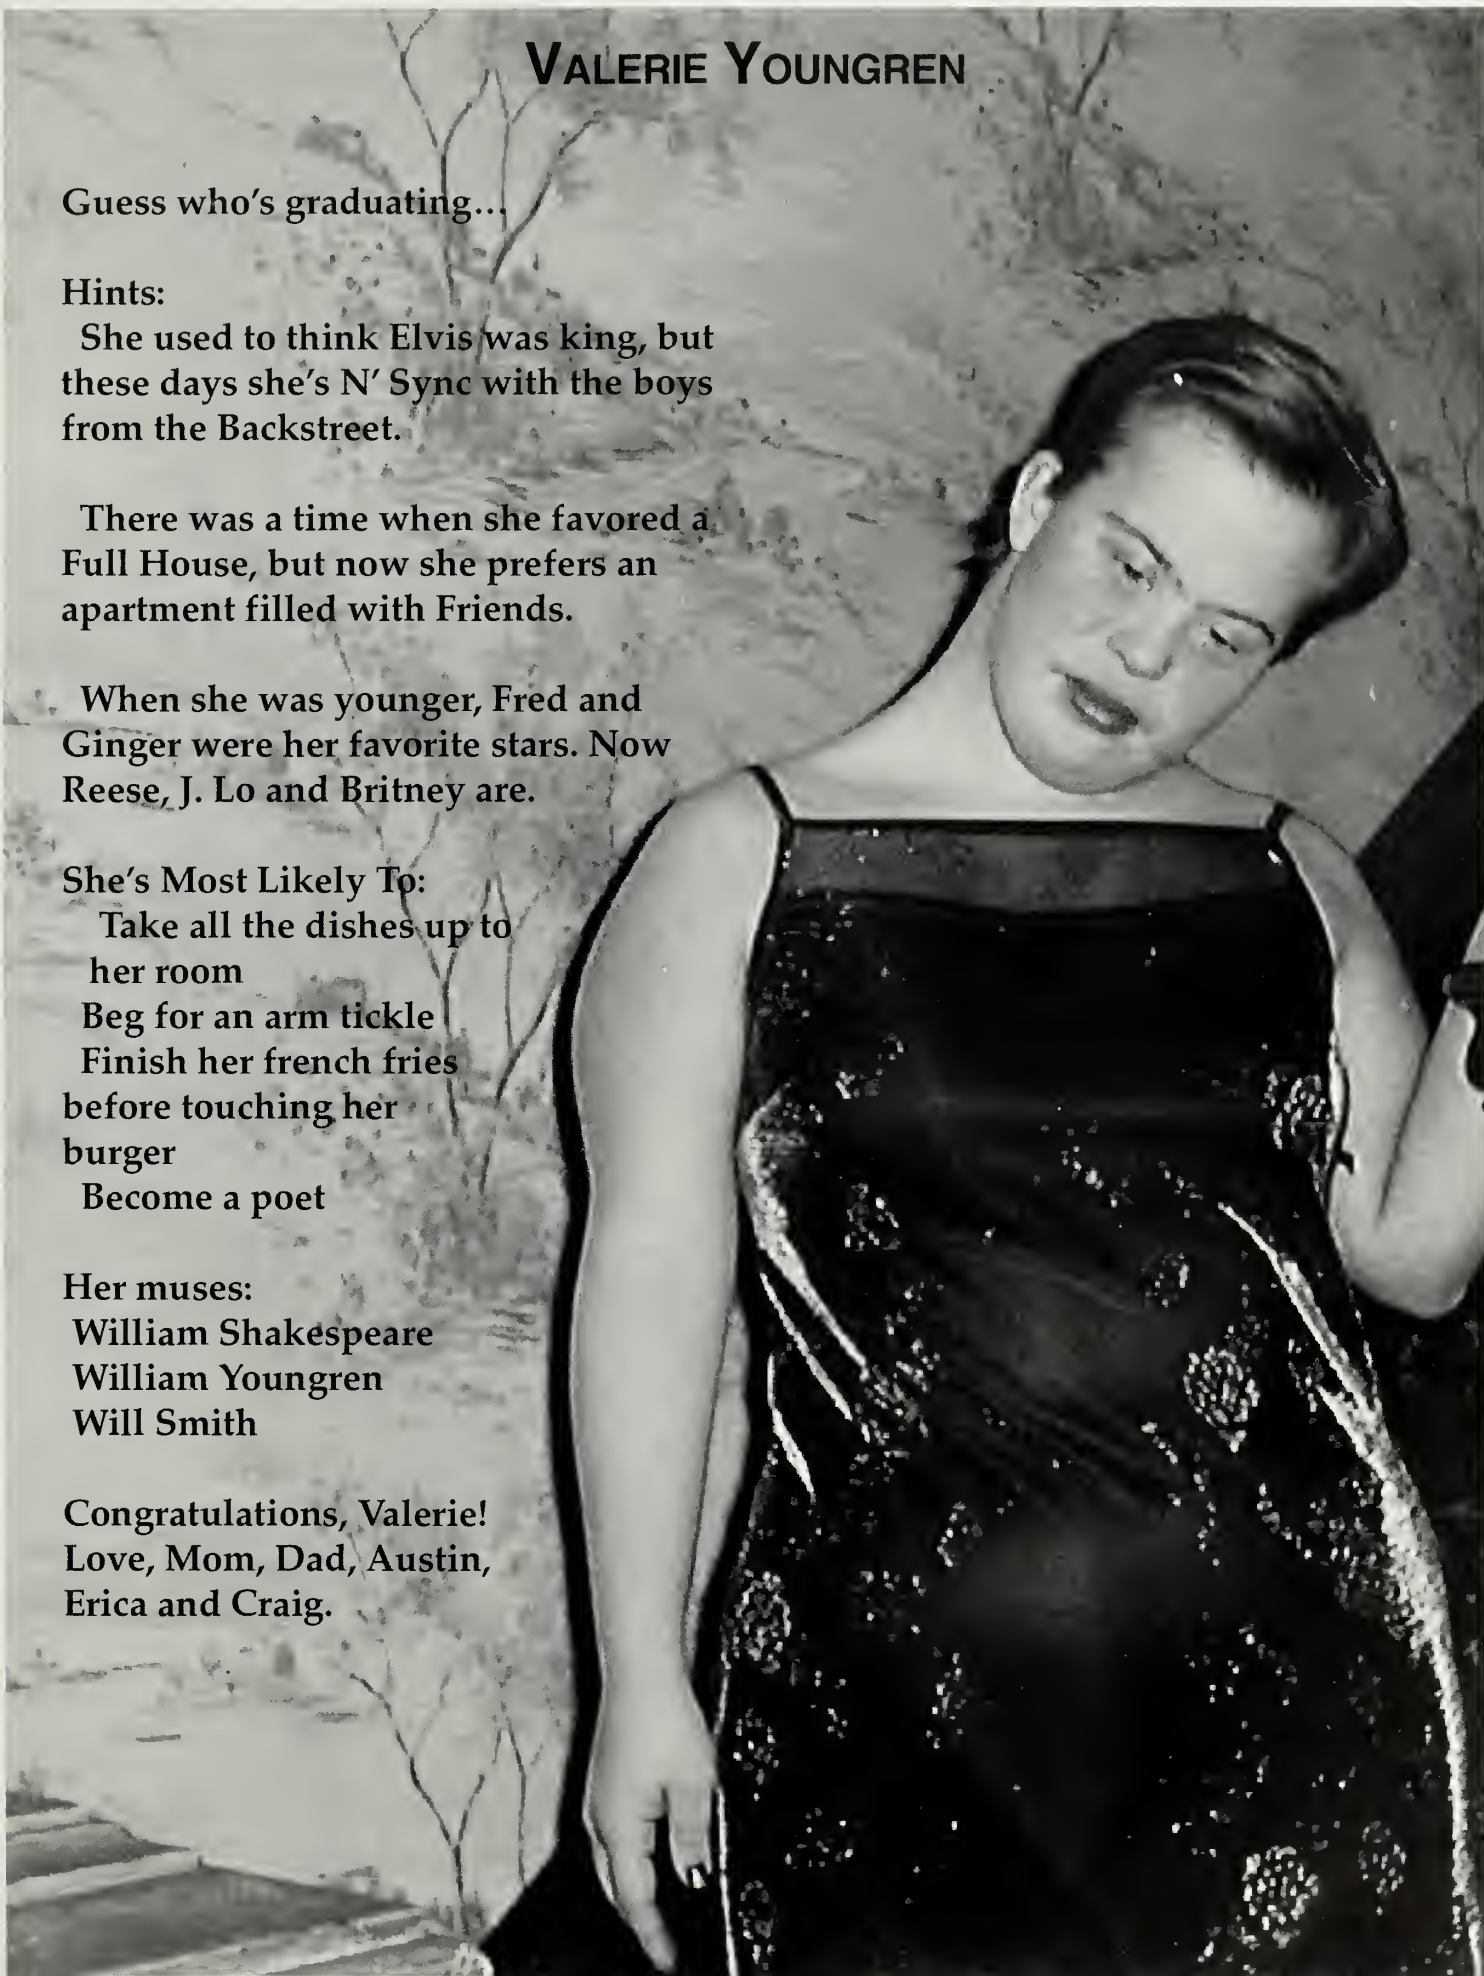

She's Most Likely To:

Take all the dishes up to her room
Beg for an arm tickle
Finish her french fries
before touching her
burger
Become a poet

Her muses:

William Shakespeare
William Youngren
Will Smith
